

Equality Objectives Update – April 2023

The Equality Act 2010: What it means for every school:

Since 6 April 2011 all public bodies, including all local authorities and all schools have been bound by what is known as the Public Sector Equality Duty (Section 149 of the Act). This replaces previous statutory duties on race, gender and disability and covers new protected characteristics. Schools and local authorities have: a) a general duty and b) two specific duties.

The general duty to promote equality

Schools must have due regard to the need to:

1) Eliminate discrimination, harassment, victimisation and any other conduct that is prohibited by the Act;

2) Advance equality of opportunity between persons who share a relevant protected characteristic and persons who do not share it by:

- removing or minimising disadvantages suffered by people which are connected to a particular characteristic they have
- taking steps to meet the particular needs of people who have a particular characteristic
- encouraging people who have a particular characteristic to participate fully in any activities

3) Foster good relations between persons who share a relevant protected characteristic and persons who do not share it. Schools need to consider how they tackle prejudice and promote understanding through:

- the curriculum
- community cohesion
- anti-bullying policies

Specific duties

There are 2 specific duties for schools:

1) To publish equality information - which shows compliance with the duty (by 6th April 2012 and thereafter annually)

2) To prepare and publish one or more equality objective (6th April 2019 and again no more than 4 years later)

This is a summary of the objectives that have been set for our school. The objectives will be reviewed annually and may be changed as a result of this.

To promote spiritual, moral, social and cultural development through all appropriate curricular/extra-curricular opportunities. We aim to meet this objective with particular reference to issues of equality and diversity.	Curriculum 2014 fully embedded, co-ordinators identifying opportunities for promoting SMSC, particularly in relation to equality and diversity. SMSC promoted at every opportunity by all staff. An increase in planned number of visits, visitors and parental workshops in support of pupils' SMSC, including links to the local church, school council and assemblies.	Promote SMSC as part of all curricular activities. Organise a range of visits/visitors to support children's understanding. Continue full implementation of statutory RSE using newly purchased scheme.
To eradicate prejudice and increase understanding of equality through direct teaching across the curriculum.	Monitoring of pupils' work in books, planning and teaching reveals teachers ensure prejudice is challenged, while equality is promoted; including positive imagery displayed around school.	Continue to challenge prejudice, while promoting equality at all times.
To remove notions of fixed ability and to model teaching and learning behaviours that avoid labelling.	Half-termly pupil progress meetings, book trawls and lesson observations, ensure pupils provided with challenge; curriculum fully inclusive of all children regardless of ability. Interventions provided to support children's progress. School adheres to Supporting Children with Medical Conditions policy. All children given access to all activities, use of 'Going for Gold' removes any suggestion of fixed ability.	Continue to plan interventions, while closely monitoring all pupils' progress. Curriculum subjects planned to remain accessible to all.
To 'diminish the difference' between pupil groupings.	Half-termly pupil progress meetings also focus on pupil groupings – including gender. Any gap between any pupil group attainments is quickly identified and closely monitored; leading to the gap between pupil grouping attainment being diminished/narrowed. To ensure curriculum remains accessible to all pupils, regardless of ability.	Continue to monitor pupil groupings; ensuring attainment remains at least in-line. Curriculum subjects planned to remain accessible to all.
To promote cultural development and understanding through a rich range of experience, both in and beyond the school.	School plans an annual focus week, enabling pupils to participate in a range of cultural experiences, including meeting visitors from a range of religions and cultures. Assembly rota, ensures a wide range of festivals celebrated. School has forged links with school in Sri Lanka, writing letters – and visiting teachers from each school. Regular visits and visitors take place (including a range of assemblies), with opportunities to promote children's cultural development.	Continue to plan a range of cultural experiences for children, with a focus on first-hand experiences, both in and beyond school. Continue to investigate international links.
To eradicate prejudice related bullying in relation to the protected characteristics listed in the Equality Act 2010. To actively promote channels of support – specifically in relation to 'Peer on Peer Abuse'.	School promotes anti-bullying week; anti-bullying remains regularly part of school assemblies. Classes have a worry box and circle-time is timetabled as part of statutory RSE lessons. Online-safety has a high profile, with visits from PCSO & Police, ensuring children aware of how to deal with cyber-bullying. Termly updates reported to Governing Board. School provides nurture intervention and a student counsellor and takes part in NSPCC assemblies and workshops. Working with Nurture Assistant, ensuring pupils have an awareness of channels of support – specifically in relation to Peer on Peer Abuse.	Promote anti-bullying through assemblies, circle-time and a range of anti-bullying activities – with a focus on all forms of bullying. Continue to deliver new RSE curriculum. KCSIE guidance
